TWENTY-SEVEN BAPTIZED AT THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH FRIDAY NIGHT

A very impressive service was held in the Christian Church Friday night when twenty seven persons were baptized into Christ on the profession of faith in Him. There were many persons present to witness the observance of this ordinance. At the beginning of the service, a few remarks were made by A. F. Stahl, the pastor of the church, with the purpose of showing from the Scripture the reason for the observance of this ordinance was to be observed as it would be in that service. He claimed it was not observed as a church ordinance, nor upon the authority of any man, but wholly upon the authority of Christ who had given the command.

Those who were baptized and others who desire to fellowship with the Christian church would be recognized as Christians in the Sunday morning service.

Miss Iradella Lynch who has been a pupil at the Midway College has returned to her home at Rectortville. At the Teachers' Examination held at Versailles, Miss Lynch received a first class teachers certificate.

MRS. BARTLETT ILL

Mrs. M. W. Bartlett, of Lawrenceburg who is in New York to attend the Convention of Federated Women's Clubs, has been quite ill at a hospital in the Empire City. Mrs. Bartlett had been selected to place in nomination Mrs. C. F. Barnes, of Kansas City, for honorary vice president, and also to speak on moonlight schools and to respond to a toast at the Kentucky Society banquet. As State president, Mrs. Bartlett is representative at the convention of all Kentucky Federated Women's Clubs and friends here are hopeful that her indisposition will not prevent her participation in at least part of the convention proceedings.—Lawrenceburg News.

Mrs. Bartlett is well known in this city having been present at the meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs here several weeks ago, she being president.

ONE BIG INNING

Cinched Game For Lawmakers Friday
—Monroe Allowed Locals Only Three Hits.

To celebrate its return from a successful road trip Mayville lost to Frankfort Friday by the score of 7 to 1.

French was on the firing line for the Burleys and was hit frequently throughout the game. He kept them well scattered, however, except in the fourth, when four singles, a double and a triple were good for five runs.

Monroe pitched excellent ball for the visitors, allowing Mayville only three hits.

Frankfort started its scoring in the first, getting a run on Kimble's walk, Henges' sacrifice and Lindholm's single to left field.

Mayville tied the score in the same inning. Timin bounced one to McKittick and was thrown out at first. J. Kelly walked and went to third on Jones' single through second. McGraynor forced Jones at second, J. Kelly scoring.

The Lawmakers pulled one bright run in the fourth. M. Kelly led off with a double. Zimmer beat out a bunt. McKittick singled through short, scoring M. Kelly. Holmes singled over second scoring Zimmer and McKittick. Monroe fanned. Holmes stole second. Kimble singled. Henges knocked one over McGraynor's head for a three bagger, scoring Holmes and Kimble.

The visitors made their last score in the ninth when Kimble knocked the ball under the fence for a home run. Kimble of Frankfort had a good day at bat, getting a home run and two singles out of four trips to the plate. Wickham was the fielding star for the locals with seven assists to his credit, while Hudson handled seventeen chances on first without a bobble.

GREAT NAVAL BATTLE

Fought Between British and Germans in North Sea—English People Are Given Severe Shock.

London, June 3.—Picking its way from its base in the Kiel Canal the German high sea fleet on Wednesday afternoon emerged into the North Sea and off the coast of Jutland engaged the British fleet throughout the afternoon and night in what probably was the greatest naval battle in the world's history, so far as tonnage engaged and tonnage destroyed is concerned.

When the battle ended, Great Britain had lost the battle cruisers Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible; the cruisers Defense, Black Prince and Warrior and eight torpedo boat destroyers, while the German battleship Comern had been sent to the bottom by a torpedo and the cruiser Wiesbaden had been sunk by British gunfire. In addition several German torpedo boats were missing and the small cruiser Frauenlob had been badly listed and was believed to have gone to the bottom. These losses have all admitted by Great Britain and Germany.

Aside from Great Britain's conceded losses Germany claims the Warspite, a ship of the Queen Elizabeth class and one of the largest and most powerful ships afloat had been sunk, that the Marlborough, a vessel of 25,000 tons, had been hit by a torpedo, and a submarine had been destroyed.

Great Britain also added to Germany's acknowledged losses with the claim that one dreadnaught of the German Kaiser class—vessels of 24,700 tons and carrying a complement of 1,088 men—had been attacked and destroyed by British torpedo craft; that another battleship of the same class was believed to have been sunk by gunfire; that one battle cruiser was sunk and two others damaged.

Admitted Losses Heavy

Great Britain's admitted loss in tonnage was 114,810 for the six battle cruisers and cruisers. That of Germany excluding the tonnage of the Wiesbaden, of which vessel there is no record, was 15,712. The tonnage of the capital ships sunk by the Japanese in their fight with the Russians in the battle of Tsushima in the summer of 1905, aggregated 93,000. Twenty-one Russian craft were destroyed in this fight, including 6 battleships and 4 cruisers. The remainder of the sunk craft comprise coast defense and special vessels and torpedo boats.

That the casualties in the fighting off Jutland were heavy is indicated by the fact that of the crew of some 900 on board the Indefatigable, only two men are known to have been saved.

TWO STREET CARS

Jump Track on Friday Near Limestone Bridge—Woman Slightly Injured in First Accident.

The Mayville Street Railway Company had its share of trouble Friday as two street cars jumped the track below Limestone bridge, once in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

The first accident occurred in the afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when car No. 25 with Mortorman Orvin Breeze in charge left the rail and plunged into a pile of paving bricks on the side of the pavement. The car was not damaged in the least but a number of the passengers quite a scare. Mrs. C. H. Kilder, who lives in a house back at the foot of Cottage street in the Fifth Ward, was hit by several of the bricks but was not seriously injured. It was quite lucky that the bricks were on the pavement as the car would have more than likely gone over the bank if it had not been stopped.

In the evening about 7:30 o'clock car No. 29 in charge of Mortorman Ed-ward Forman jumped the track in the same place but no damage was done. Both the cars were soon placed back on the track and traffic was held up for only a short time.

All cars are now running very slowly over this section of the track so that if any more accidents occur there will be very little danger of anyone getting hurt.

PREPARING INDUSTRIAL WAR AGAINST AMERICA

Japan was invited to take part in the Paris economic conference, which included representatives from Great Britain, France, Russia and Italy. These countries are fully alive to the necessity for readjustments of their trade policies. It is to be noted that the United States was not invited to send a representative to this conference, although it is highly probable that the progress we have been making in the European battle royal was going on was a subject of considerable discussion at the Paris meeting. Germany and Austria are also preparing to effect a trade combination and a readjustment of commercial policies, and their attitude toward us will not be marked with gentleness.

We are doing nothing toward getting ready for post bellum conditions. The Democrats still cling to the Underwood tariff-for-less-than-revenue law, declaring it to be adequate for any occasion. Son-in-law McAdoo went to South America, still further to "encourage" a trade with that continent which recorded an increase of 223 per cent in a trade balance against us, comparing 1913, nine months under the Republican tariff law, with 1915, under the Democratic tariff law. Secretary Redfield bobs up every once in a while with legislation of the most Utopian character. Congress refuses to make suitable appropriations to extend our foreign trade. And President Wilson hops from one idea to another, like an Austrian wallaby, with his eye single to a re-election. With the whole world facing an economic upheaval the Democrats are acting like the guests at a Hinky-dink revel. And commercial preparedness is quite as essential as military preparedness.

Every time we hear a big strapping fellow grunting we think of a Berkshire hog we helped to eat some years ago.

We notice an evidence of wealth on every hand, but there's darned little of it in our hand. Pay up!

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the earl of the lark; the dew of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Washington, June 4—Friends of the administration are not overlooking the fact that fourteen Democratic Senators voted against the President on the question of confirmation of George Rublee as a member of the Federal Trade Commission. There was much criticism of the partisan manner in which the President made up the commission, and it is evident that even Democrats were not entirely pleased with the personnel. Doubtless there were other Democrats who were displeased but who voted for Rublee rather than get off the reservation.

The turning down the President received in the Rublee appointment is not hurting him as much, however, as the difficulty over the Brandeis nomination. Prominent Democrats from all parts of the United States feel that even if the President thought Brandeis a proper person to be named for the Supreme Bench, yet Brandeis is not by any means the only Democrat qualified for the place and it would have been very easy and far wiser to have named some man who would have been confirmed without question. Almost every state in the Union could have presented one or more Democrats who would have been accepted by the Senate and by the country as fitted for the vacancy in the Supreme Court. Why the President should embarrass his party is, therefore, a mystery.

It is not merely in important appointments that President Wilson has displeased and embarrassed members of his own party but in minor matters where it would have been just as easy to make friends. For instance, when the President said in his famous Press Club speech that he had found only two or three men who give him disinterested advice and who have no axes to grind, he plainly discredited the great majority of the leaders of his party. It is easy to select the three who are unselfish. Colonel House must be one, for Wilson has made House his most confidential advisor. McAdoo must be another. Tumulty, his private Secretary, must be the third. Then all the rest of the Democratic members of the Senate and House, all the members of the Democratic National Committee, and all the other members of the cabinet, have word direct from the President that he has found them selfish and with axes to grind. It is not surprising, therefore, that there are a lot of Democrats in and out of Washington, who are very sore at President Wilson.

During a recent discussion of an amendment proposed by a Democratic member of Congress increasing an already large appropriation bill, Congressman Martin B. Madden of Illinois told a story that is likely to be retold among political speakers during the coming campaign. Mr. Madden said the amendment reminded him of a man who moved from Texas in the pioneer days and opened a bank in Denver, and all the people who had assembled around Denver made their deposits in his bank, but shortly after the failure, he called the depositors together and explained to them that there was none of their money left in the bank and that he had no assets to turn over to them, except to offer himself as a sacrifice and that they could do with him what they pleased. One man in the audience cried out: "Well, when you are cutting him up, I speak for his gall."

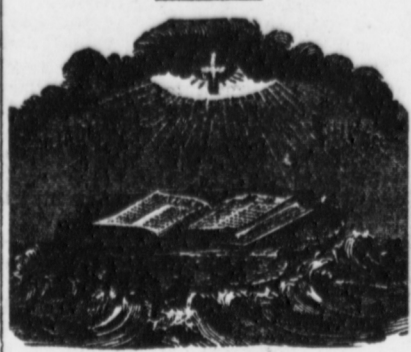

The one feature of the Mexican trouble that Americans cannot overlook is that by his vacillating policy President Wilson has enabled the Mexicans—both de facto rulers and bandits—to secure the arms and ammunition with which they have slaughtered citizens of the United States. Although Villa had a notorious record as a murderer, outlaw and ex-convict, he was for a time a favorite of the administration, and his force was permitted to secure arms and munitions in this country. It is everywhere recognized that if the embargo on arms had been consistently maintained, the Mexican situation would be much better. Many American lives would have been saved, and much property preserved from destruction. No amount of sophistry can conceal or evade the facts.

Every church should support two pastors—one for the thousands at home, the other for the millions abroad.—Jacob Chamberlain.

A manicure artist who could polish a man's brain would fill a long-felt want.

BACK SEAT

Given All Leaders Except T. R. and Hughes as Battle Draws Near—Efforts to Tie Can to Jurist Continue.

Chicago, June 1—Uppermost and absorbing in the discussions of the swelling gathering of Republican leaders today was the problem of value of respective chances of Justice Charles E. Hughes, of New York, and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt of securing the nomination for President.

Roosevelt is regarded as having been formally entered as a contestant, and for the time being the other candidates are in eclipse.

Automatically, so to phrase it, the two great and dominating figures appear to have arisen to fill the full breadth of speculation now going on at a furious rate. For the nonce it seems futile for the representatives of the other aspirants to seek to thrust forward their principals.

Between Two Candidates
No matter how a survey of the situation begins, it usually ends with a comparison between the two New York candidates. It is beginning to be realized that the Hughes boom has more behind it, more solid substance, than the mere machinations of former Postmaster-General Frank Hitchcock, and there now is some trepidation among the rash supporters of the other candidates that the concerted attack upon him, instead of weakening, has really strengthened the possibilities for his nomination.

Seventeen delegates from Georgia, pledged to the candidacy of Justice Hughes, today were uneasy by the Republican National Committee, and their seats in the convention were given to men favorable to Elihu Root.

Crafty, experienced and far seeing United States Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, immediately following his arrival this morning, said with characteristic frankness: "If the tactics are continued they will inevitably result in the nomination of Justice Hughes. They are driving delegates to him. If I were a betting man I would wager $1,000 that if Hughes is not nominated, Roosevelt will be."

Allies Destroying Selves.
In explanation Senator Smoot made it clear that the so-called allies, or minor candidates, were destroying themselves by slugging Hughes, a strong man, out of the race and leaving it clear for his rival in strength, Roosevelt.

In the same way National Chairman Charles D. Hilles observed that the massed strength of minor candidates was no greater than their separate groups of votes.

Without feeling, but expressing the judgment of a political observer, he remarked that nothing was to be gained by them by centering upon a rival. If they held their lines firmly the same result would be accomplished and no dangerous sympathy created for the object of their attack.

Nevertheless the effort to drive Hughes out continues.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me. At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health. If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years. At all druggists. #### WILL BE SWORN IN IN FEW DAYS

Washington, June 2—Louis D. Brandeis, Boston lawyer, will be sworn in as a member of the Supreme Court, probably June 12. The Senate yesterday confirmed Mr. Brandeis' nomination by a vote of 47 to 22.

With one exception, Senate Democrats voted solidly for confirmation. The exception was Senator Newlands, of Nevada, who, in a formal statement, said his action was based on the ground that he did not regard Mr. Brandeis as a man of "judicial temperament." Three Republicans—La Follette, Norris and Poinsett—voted for confirmation.

Mr. Brandeis is the first Jew to be elevated to the highest tribunal in the land. He succeeds the late Associate Justice Lamar, of Georgia. The fight over this confirmation was one of the bitterest in the Senate's history.

LIGHTNING SINGS HIS HAIR; NO INJURY RESULTS

Augusta, Ky., June 2—While working in a tobacco field, Theodore Powers, a farmer near Augusta, was struck by lightning, which tore a hole in his felt hat and singed his hair, but did not injure him. Albert Woodruff, who was standing close to Mr. Powers, was shocked severely, but recovered from the effects.
